Judge Patten, of the municipal court, went to Madison this morning to attend to some business.

The members of the Temple of Honor and their families had a pleasant social in Apollo hall last evening, which was well attended.

If the long predicted thaw does not put in an appearance, and it keeps on snowing, we are likely to have good sleighing here for an indefinite time.

The Chicago grain market is a puzzle now-days to the speculators—the quotations are up one day and down the next; not much of a chance for a speculation in values.

Prof. Wm. M. Lawrence, of Milwaukee, son of Rev. and Mrs. G. W. Lawrence, of this city, is home on a visit to his parents, who are both confined to the house by sickness.

Remember the lecture at St. Patrick's church, to-morrow evening, by the pastor, Rev. Father McGonigley. Subject, "Christian Charity." A cordial invitation is extended to the public.

One of the girls employed in the up-town cotton mill met with an accident yesterday, having her hand caught in the machinery. One of her fingers was badly mangled, but it is thought nothing serious will result.

Mrs. Massolotti, mother of Mrs. J. C. McCall, who was stricken with paralysis yesterday morning, is very low to-day, and there are but faint prospects of her recovery, she being upwards of eighty years old.

This weather beats the oldest inhabitant—as well as the rest of the population. The only ones who appear to be satisfied are the boys who possess hand sleds. They are all right provided they can get a hitch on a farmer's sleigh.

The Rev. Henry Faville is in the city on a visit to his wife's parents—Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Conant—and will preach to-morrow morning and evening at Court Street church. His many friends in the city will read this announcement with pleasure.

The annual meeting of the public library association will be held at library rooms on Monday evening, March 10th. The ladies will be glad to see all friends of this enterprise upon that evening at any time between the hours of half-past seven and ten o'clock. By order of president.

The Rock County Tobacco Growers' and Dealers' association met in their rooms in this city this afternoon, for the purpose of further discussing the fertilizer question. The meeting was quite largely attended, but at the time of our going to press, the discussion had not commenced.

The remains of the late Mrs. Stephen Laplum, who died in Chicago on Saturday last, and whose obituary notice was published in Monday's Gazette, arrived in this city on the 1:20 train this afternoon, accompanied by a number of the relatives and friends of the deceased. A large number of Janesville friends met the funeral party at the depot upon the arrival of the train, and the remains were taken to Oak Hill cemetery for interment.

The Leap Year and basket social given by the ladies of the Baptist church society at the residence of Hon. Wm. A. Lawrence, last evening, was well attended. This time the gentlemen carried the baskets, containing luncheon for two or four persons, which were sold to the ladies for the sum of twenty-five and fifty cents. As a matter of course the baskets all contained the best to be had, and found a ready market. There was much humor and pleasure indulged during the luncheon hour. The evening was pleasantly and profitably spent.

Julius Malbroeck, the brakeman who fell from the cars at Neenah on Wednesday night, was alive at last accounts. The Fond du Lac Commonwealth gives the following particulars of the accident: "He has been employed as brakeman on the Northwestern road and was on his train at the time of the accident. He got down to unlense the engine to take water and while climbing back to the top of a car, the slack cars in the rear bumped the others with such force that he was thrown off and run over by one of the trucks. Word was immediately telegraphed to his folks here that he was injured and could not live until morning. His father secured the services of Dr. Eidemiller, of New Cassell, and went north on the first train. Word was received this morning that he was still alive but could not recover, and his sister went to his side on the forenoon train."

Roland Reed in "Check."

Next Wednesday evening, Mr. Roland Reed will appear at the Myers opera house in his popular play "Check." He is a very clever comedian, as will be seen from the following notice taken from the Chicago Times of last Tuesday: "The performance is altogether one of the finest that has been seen here for many a season, and Chicago audiences are not likely to soon tire of it. Last night it was received with great satisfaction. The 'dude' song provoked roars of laughter, and the audience could hardly get enough of it. Mr. Reed has mounted the piece in an excellent manner, the Madison Square scene with its elevated electric lamp being especially fine."

Mr. Eads will complete his illustrated history of Janesville next week, when it will be widely distributed among the people of this city and also Rock county. The work contains much valuable historical matter which is well worth preserving, including the origin and growth of the manufactures and business houses of the city. Mr. Eads has taken special pains to stamp the work with a permanent value, and this being one of the many excellent features of the illustrated history, it will prove a profitable investment to those who have purchased advertising space herein. Those of our citizens who have had any dealings with Mr. Eads have found in him the qualities

THE LASKER INCIDENT.

Debate in the German Reichstag Closed by the President.

BERLIN, March 8.—In the reichstag, Herr Adolf Lasker, one of the vice-presidents of that body, was elected president. Herr Lasker moved a vote of thanks to the American congress for the Lasker resolution, which motion was approved by Baron Von Hammerstein, on behalf of the Conservatives. Herr Richter denounced Bismarck's action in returning the resolution as an insult to the reichstag and to the United States. Herr Von Bismarck declared that the reichstag had no right to criticize the action of the chancellor of the empire. The debate was very long.

During the debate Herr Adolf Haenel of Meissen, the member of the reichstag as a defender of the independence of action, Baron Maltzahn denied this imputation and defended the existing laws. In reply to Herr Boettcher's remarks Dr. Braun recalled the fact that the Prussian house of deputies had adopted resolutions obligating Richard Cobden, the eminent English statesman. To this Baron Maltzahn retorted that Germany could not copy Prussia. "Our orders," he added, "are decisive." He continued to insist upon the necessary limitations of the reichstag.

Herr Lasker spoke in sympathy with the vote of thanks. He was proceeding to refer to the presentation of a flag to the reichstag by former Prussian statesmen, when the president ruled that the reichstag was out of order and closed the debate.

OPERATING IN BRITISH AMERICA.

The Fenians Assorted To Be Preparing for War in Manitoba.

PANCO, D. T., March 8.—The agent of the Dominion government here claims to have discovered that a meeting was held over the Gold Mine saloon by Fenian agitators, and that they were preparing for war in Manitoba. The Fenians were armed with revolvers and shotguns, and were in the habit of holding meetings in the saloon.
